A Note From Your Administration

Dear Families and Friends,

Happy Catholic Schools Week! Thank you to all who attended mass this weekend and wore their uniform. I hope you've seen our sign out front celebrating this special week for our students and staff. We are excited that we had our Prayer Service on Monday, adoration today, and All School Mass on Friday. Please make sure to join us at mass on Friday at 8:15 a.m.

This is a week where we focus on the love of our good God and our responsibility to spread it in our school and our community. If you walk down the hallways, you can see the touching essays written by junior high students on the impact of their Catholic education. Catholic education is a blessing and a responsibility: "Much will be required of the person entrusted with much, and still more will be demanded of the person entrusted with more." (Luke 12: 48). I love hearing about all the good our students are doing out in our community, and in the world. That strong relationship with God calls them to do and be more. Thank you to our parents who have sacrificed so that our students can be disciples in whatever work they do.

Cheerfully in Christ,

Mrs. Aideen Briggs
Principal, Blessed Sacrament School

"My grandfather once told me that there are two kinds of people: those who work and those who take the credit. He told me to try to be in the first group; there was less competition there." – Indira Gandhi

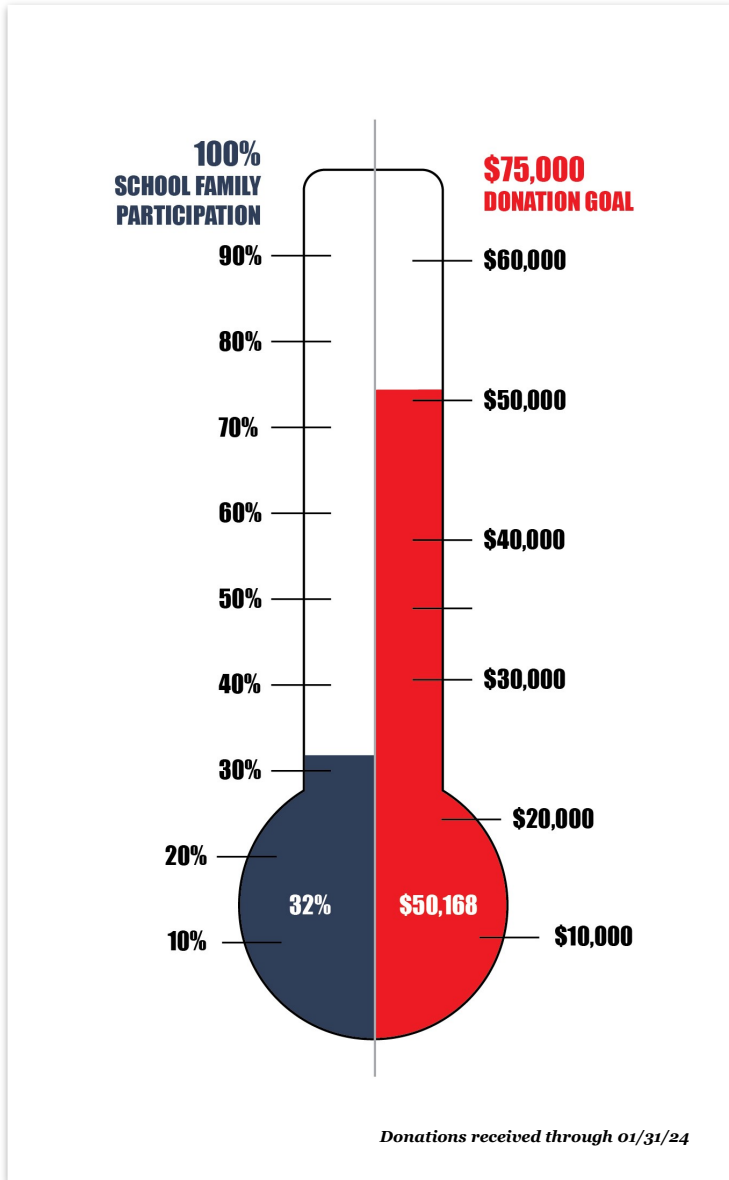

Did You Know...

That we have an early dismissal this Friday at 11:00? Please say a prayer for all Catholic educators this week that they are so filled with the fire of the Holy Spirit that they can share it with their students out of their abundance.

To Celebrate Catholic Schools, Tiny Saints and 4 Marks Printing have partnered to give one lucky school a free Tiny Saint for every student and free t-shirt for every teacher featuring their school's patron saint. Depending on the size of your school, that could be more than $10,000 in added value to your school. Make sure to nominate your school by Saturday, February 3rd, 2024.

PLEASE HELP OUR SCHOOL WIN!

This week thousands of Catholic schools around the United States are celebrating the gift and joy of a Catholic education. At Tiny Saints, we've put all the great patron saints of education into one collection to honor the caring and tenacious women and men who paved the way and support all the saints-in-the-making who nobly carry on their legacy today.

Five Reasons to Bring Your Kids to Mass

5. Health!

In April, 2013, the New York Times reported that regular church attendance boosts the immune system, lowers blood pressure, and can add 2-3 years to one's life!

4. Social support!

Regular church attendance connects your family with a community of families who share your values.

Stanford Professor of Anthropology, T. M. Luhrmann reports that regular church members care for one another, provide emotional support, and set a standard that leads to less recreational drug use, alcohol consumption, and promiscuous sex.

3. Quality family time!

Familylife.com lists prayer as one of the top ten quality time activities for families – right up there with playing games together and being available and willing to listen when your kids need to talk something over with a parent.

2. Praise and gratitude!

Psychologist Richard Nicasastro from New Mexico encourages patients to develop a grateful mindset. Expressing praise and thanks to God actually lifts one's spirits, helps one's daily outlook, and increases happiness.

1. Eucharist!

Where else can you touch God?! The Master of the universe is present at every mass – in his word, in the assembled community, in the priest who acts in the person of Christ, and in the Eucharist. It really doesn't get any better than that!
